

N1MM Logger Help File For Installing Files Required For VK Trans-Tasman Contest

(N1MM has excellent networking capabilities for multi user stations)

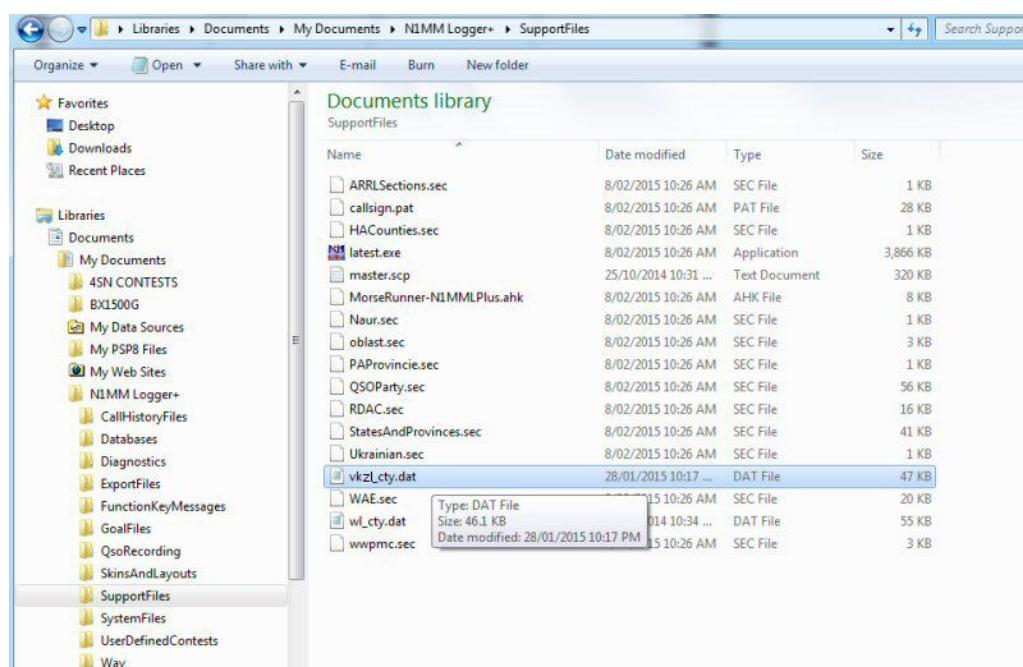

The zip file for VKTTRTTY will contain 3 files. This help file, vkzl_cty.dat, and VKTTRTTY.UDC.
(You will have to set up N1MM configuration if you have never used N1MM before)

1. Unzip the ZIP file and copy VKTTRTTY.UDC file into the
'MyDocuments\N1MMLogger+\UserDefinedContests' folder

(Do not change the names of the files as N1MM+ requires the "RTTY" in the file name to make the RTTY engine work properly.)

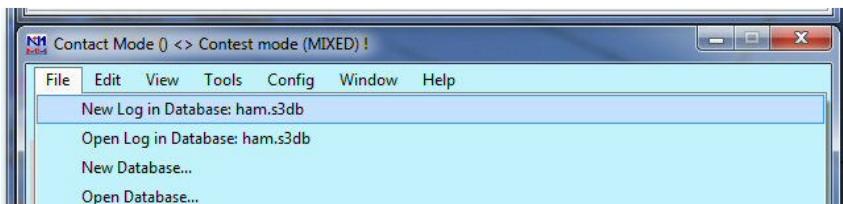

2. Copy the vkzl_cty.dat to the 'MyDocument\N1MMLogger+\SupportFiles' folder as below.
(some may not see the files extension ".dat" which is quite normal.. In that case just select vkzl_cty)

3. Start N1MM Plus and open the contest. File - New Log in Database...

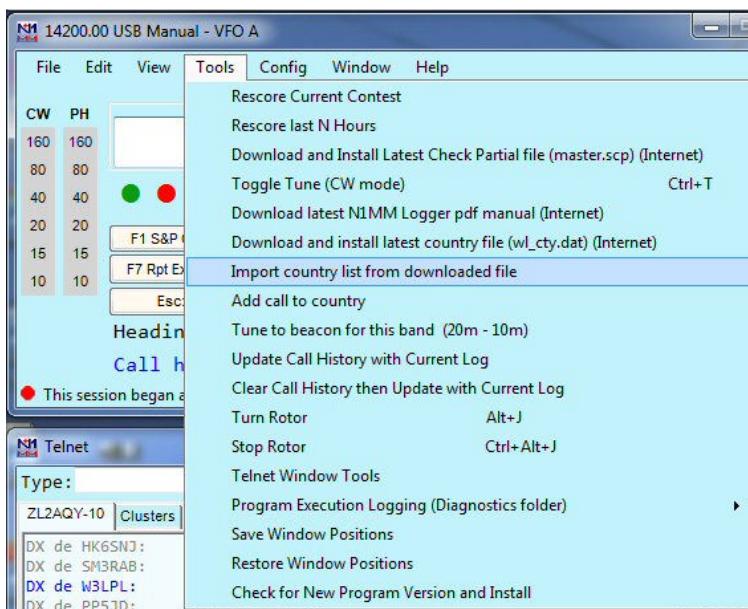

4. Select VKTTRTTY. Make sure you then select the correct categories you are entering. Press OK when done. There is no need to select any "assisted" category.

5. THIS STEP IS VERY IMPORTANT.. If it's not done, the program will not score correctly.

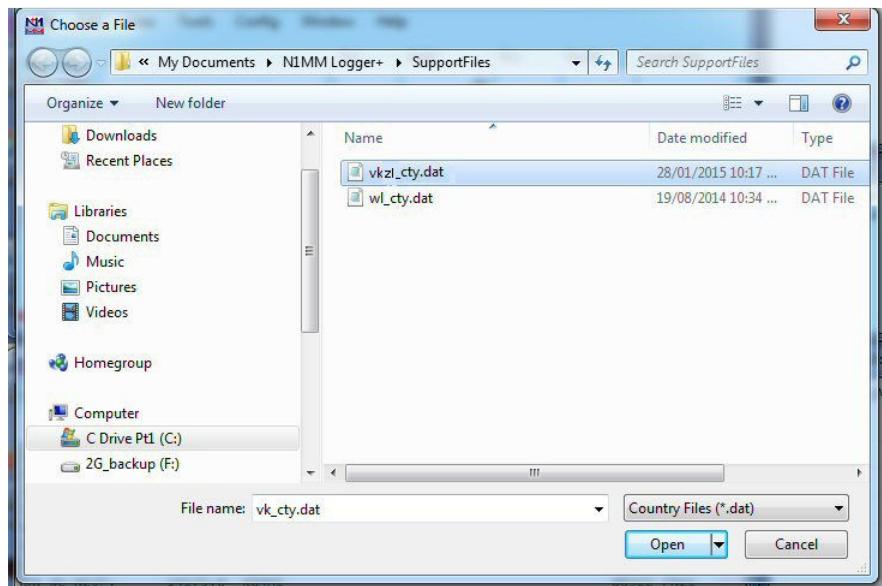

Select: Tools - Import country list from downloaded file.

6. Select vkzl_cty.dat (or just vkzl_cty) and click Open.

You are now ready to start logging callsigns.

Remember to switch back to wl_cty.dat after the contest is over, or on the next time you use N1MM.

7. After the contest: Create your cabrillo log ready for submission. File - Generate Cabrillo File

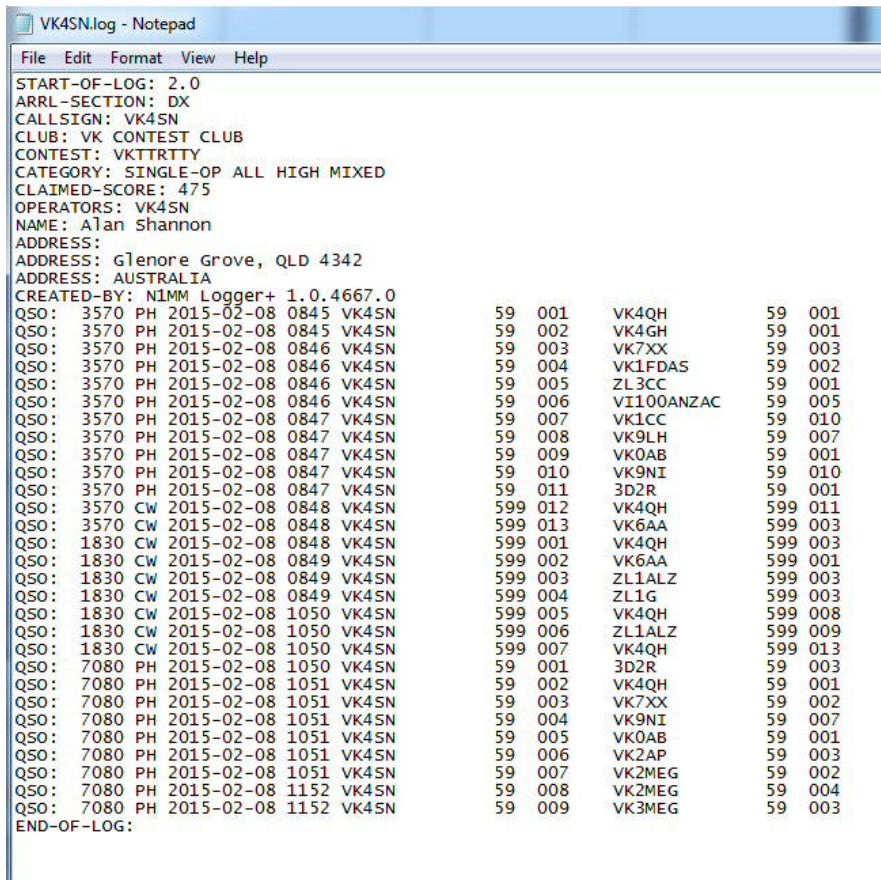

Follow the steps on the screen and when done, you will see the log in front of you.

The log is stored in the ExportFiles folder ready for you to attach to an email or upload to a website.

There is an export function that allows export to generic text file. This file includes more information and point scoring if one is interested.

Good luck and enjoy
